

ISO 50001 Energy management system

Energy and sustainability

We people discuss much more frequently the subject energy. Questions like the future of nuclear power, regulation of fee for CO₂, avoid energy of expensive fossil sources, much more expensively growing of winning resources, rising energy prices, everything hangs together with energy.

Today as a manager you cannot ignore the energy expenses in your organisation anymore.

Another plus of the ISO 50001 is the open confession to the sustainability, which will enhance trust and respect to your clients, employees, partners, suppliers, authorities and the whole society increasingly.

You cannot buy such an impeccable image. You develop it with lived sustainability through your support by ISO 50001.

Your efforts will be honoured in the society, by recognition and positive announcements, your image rises.
